About Portia Roberts

Portia Roberts is a brand new, prestigious, high-calibre dating and relationship service agency for professional Christian single people and professional Christian married people who work in the city of London.

We aim to educate, train and equip both professional Christian single people and professional Christian married people by providing them with an effective dating and relationship approach by taking them through 'the love school' and providing them with more practical and effective dating and relationship services. Personal dating services; meet-up dating events (such as speed dating events); dating and relationship counselling services; the love school training and seminars; and much more.

At Portia Roberts, our dating and relationship services are unique, more personalised and practical compared to any other London-based dating and counselling agency. Unlike most online dating/relationship agencies, we go a step further to help and assist our clients who are serious about finding a partner and entering into a long-term relationship with them.

As a client-oriented dating and relationship agency, our aim is to help and support our clients' goals: to achieve a committed, successful, long-term relationship. We do this by using various simple but practical and effective methods, including the following:

1. Personal Dating Consultation

One of our Client Services Dating Consultants will arrange an appointment to discuss your dating profile, aspirations etc. (such as the type of potential partner they are looking for), and offer help, advice and assistance in practical date planning. Clients have the opportunity to go on 3 dates chosen by themselves from our registration days /audition days or from our meet-up dating events.

2. Meet-Up / Matchmaking Events (social and matchmaking events)

Dating Events every 2 / 3 months in London's top exclusive venues.

3. The Marriage Clinic

We offer professional relationship and marriage counselling services to both professional Christian single people and professional Christian couples working in the city of London.

4. 'The Love School' (training/seminars)

We provide 'the love school' training/seminars every 3 months where we look at all types of subjects/issues that both professional Christian single people and professional Christian married people face in relationships today, including: what is the role of men/women in a relationship / marriage; love and communication in relationships /marriage; sex education; how to deal with problems in relationships /marriages; enjoying single life; and much more.

Monthly Feature

For this month, we will be looking at the concept of soul mates, more particularly,

'How Many Soul Mates Can One Really Have In Their Lifetime?'

We are very excited to discuss this month's topic! Before we delve into the question, we first need to examine the definition of a Soul Mate.

The definition of a Soul Mate: A person ideally suited to another as a close friend or romantic partner. It's the one person in the world that will know and understand you better than anyone else. They truly inspire you and continuously propel you to new personal heights and betterment. They accept you and believe in you before anyone else does or when no one else would. No matter what happens in life, you'll always love them. Put simply: you will forever carry your Soul Mate with you.

In defining and understand what exactly a Soul Mate is, we can safely say that unfortunately, in modern times, it is very difficult to find your Soul Mate in a romantic context.

To find a person that will unconditionally love you for who you are, and accepts your flaws. However, although it is true most of us can indeed find it very hard to find our Soul Mate(s), when we do find one; we tend to be and should be extremely appreciative and forever grateful to God.

Who do we truly consider to be Soul Mates in our lives?

The answer is anyone that you personally consider to be extremely special to you. These people can be your Soul Mate. As Christians, our ultimate true Soul Mate will always be the one and only Jesus Christ. As the Bible says: "He first loved us before the world did."

More often than not, we tend to look at our boyfriends, girlfriends, husbands and wives as our Soul Mates as they are the people who come into our lives. They become endearingly special to us, holding a special place within our hearts forever.

So when it comes to answering our main topic question, which is 'How Many Soul Mates Can One Really Have In Their Lifetime?' I can draw from my own personal life experience.

Romantically, I have found to have had more than one Soul Mate – people who have been really special to me in my life who will forever stay in my heart. It may sound trite or cheesy, but it's true. They truly have made a difference on how I view love and romantic relationships with the opposites sex.

In conclusion, we can say that it is not the number of Soul Mates that you have had in your lifetime that is truly important. What is important, is for you to encounter your true Soul Mate – the person who will love and cherish you truly and unconditionally.

Thank you for taking the time to read our article, please comment and share!

Until next time!
